Eats With Mish

I am a foodie who has found an amazing way to share my love of food through my blog. I share easy-to-make Indian recipes on Instagram and Facebook. Many of my followers have told me how much that has helped them during the pandemic of 2020 and how, following my recipes, many new cooks have started cooking Indian food regularly much to their family's delight. I have built an audience of highly engaged followers. My first post was March 24, 2020.
